Will Revise Location Lines On Tenth and Eleventh Streets.

Following the Councilmanic investigation of the Pinnacle yesterday Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg was directed to make a revised location of lines on Tenth and Eleventh streets in order to avoid, when opening these thoroughfares, as many improved properties as possible. By the proposed lines it is expected that Tenth street can be opened at a greatly reduced cost.

One of the principal objections to the opening of Tenth street was the fact that on Murphy avenue it would be necessary to take in E. G. Hall's residence. The re-located lines will run the street between this house and the brick residence of W. C. Reynolds.

It will be impossible to cut a direct line through from the Third Ward school to Francis avenue, but Council is anxious to open the street as soon as possible and at a minimum of expense.

In addition to the engineers working on this manner, Mr. Hogg has a force in the field compiling data for the coomprehensive sewer plan authorized at the last meeting of Council.

President Murray Goes East.

President Oscar G. Murray of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, together with a large party of operating officials, went east last night to Baltimore. They traveled in a special train of six cars.

AN AGREEMENT ON SIDEWALKS.

Conference of Borough Engineer and Interested Property Owners.

NO ORDINANCE COVERS MATTER

Engineer Hogg Having Blue Prints Made Showing Agreement Reached on Patterson Avenue—Duplicates to Be Furnished Residents.

Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg met a number of residents along East Patterson avenue this morning relative to the laying of sidewalks on that thoroughfare between Pittsburg and Sycamore streets, an agreement being reached as to the method of laying the walks. Among those who attended the conference were Dr. L. S. Hyatt, W. N. Leche, Councilman John F. Reynolds, Frank Holland and others interested.

There being no ordinance covering the matter, it was necessary for the property owners to reach an amicable agreement. This was done after a brief conference. It was decided that on the stretch of sidewalk, on the north side of the street, between Pittsburg and Race streets, the walks to be laid are to align with the cement walk also built by Frank Holland. On the remaining walks, there will be a five foot cement path placed in the center of the 15 foot space allowed for the sidewalk, leaving a five foot grass plot on either side of the walk.

Speaking of the matter this morning Borough Engineer Hogg expressed regret that there is no rule by which the sidewalk matter can be uniformly applied. Engineers agree upon the following: 40 foot street, eight foot sidewalk and 24 foot roadway; 50 foot street, 12 foot sidewalk and 30 foot roadway; and 60 foot street, 15 foot sidewalk and 30 foot roadway.

Patterson avenue, being a 60 foot thoroughfare, has been laid out according to these specifications and lines were run yesterday. When streets are to be paved, the petition, stating the width of paving desired, takes the burden of responsibility from the shoulders of the Borough Engineer, but there is nothing but his best judgment available if there is no such petition, or the street is not paved.

Borough Engineer Hogg is having blue prints prepared showing the agreement reached on Patterson avenue. In addition to the copy remaining on file in his office, duplicates will be furnished the residents of that thoroughfare, in order that they may have the data close at hand.

ENTER SUIT FOR BILL TO COVER PLASTERING

Sanner & Stevenson Want $21.25 But Bill Is Objected To.

Sanner & Stevenson entered suit before Squire W. P. Clark to recover $21.25 from Orville O'Neal, as agent, and James Mountain as owner of a property in Baisley's Hollow. The money is alleged to be due for plastering done by the firm.

The defendants, represented by Attorney F. E. Younkin, claim that more work was done than had been contracted for, and that they were put to considerable extra expense. After the hearing last evening Squire Clark reserved his decision.

NOT FAMILY TROUBLE.

But Nerves Caused Banker Castle's Suicide.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(Special.)—Intimate friends of John W. Castle, President of the Union Trust Company, who cut his throat in the Grand Union Hotel and was found dead stretched across a bed last night, declare that his death was due solely to nervous breakdown, and not to any family trouble as was rumored.

PRESIDENT STARTS ON HIS TRIP WEST

Will Swing Around Circle From East to West and From North to the South.

United Press Telegram.

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 14.—President Taft in the best of health, it is believed, and with hands tanned and arms strong from golfing and vacation pastimes, left here today on a western trip that is marked with strenuosity.

His itinerary, which is going to make somebody hustle and get up early to light the fire, covers 29 States and two Territories that want to be States, and he will deliver about 300 speeches if his voice does not give out. One hundred thousand patriots are waiting to shake him by the hand, which is going some.

It looks as if he will have as hard a trip as any that he made when he was campaigning for President. He has work cut out, too, this time, for he will enter sections where he will meet cantankerous ones who opposed him on account of the various tariff provisions. This is particularly true of the west, where he will need all his suavity and diplomacy to steer clear of threatening rocks, that stand out against the peace of his office.

A meeting with President Diaz of Mexico, is included in the trip. He will be the guest of Boston business men tonight, and then will leave the Bean City at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning when he and his party will steam westward, making their first stop on the initenary at Albany tomorrow afternoon.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE AGAINST PHYSICIAN

Cambria County Authorities Prosecute Woman Doctor and Many Witnesses are Summoned.

SOMERSET, Sept. 14.—(Special.) On Saturday District Attorney Leech of Johnstown was in Somerset engaged in gathering witnesses for the hearing in the charge of malpractise against Dr. Harriet Hooper of Johnstown, who, it is alleged, performed a criminal operation on Miss Bertha Trent of Somerset which resulted in the young lady's death a few weeks ago. The case attracted much attention owing to the fact that Dr. Hooper is a well known woman physician and that Miss Trent was well known in Somerset county.

Attorney Leech stated that the case will come up for trial at Ebensburg on Wednesday, September 15, and he caused subpoenas to be served on 11 residents of Somerset, who will be witnesses at the trial. These people are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Vannear, Mrs. William Brendle, a sister of Mrs. L. W. Vannear, Mrs. Jacob Jerker, Dr. A. O. Barclay, Dr. H. I. Marsden Recorder Norman E. Berkey, William Thompson, colored, a porter at the Hotel Arlington, and Dr. J. J. Emmons.

Beistel Convicted.

GREENSBURG, Sept. 14. — John Beistel of Bethany, charged with the murder of Charles "Coxy" King at Ruffsdale several months ago, was convicted of manslaughter on Saturday.

A social session of the Moose will be held here Thursday evening when members of the order from all parts of the region will be guests of Connellsville Lodge No. 16.

CONNELLSVILLE TOWNSHIP CITIZENS OBJECT TO INCORPORATING SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE.

Hearing Began in Court at Uniontown This Morning and Was Postponed Until 3 O'clock This Afternoon After Two Witnesses Were Examined.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 14.—Arguments were taken up this morning in the matter of incorporating South Connellsville into a borough, but only brief progress was made. After hearing two witnesses the hearing was adjourned until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

E. L. Boyd and George S. Blackstone were the witnesses examined. They appeared in behalf of those who filed exceptions to incorporation. Their argument was that the proposed borough covered too much territory and that the school district of the township would suffer. Of the 16 rooms in the township, 10 would be included within the lines of the new borough. They further testified that too large a percentage of taxable valuation would be included.

Frank Pierce was then called, but before he could be sworn an adjournment was taken. E. C. Higbee appeared for the exceptants and E. H. Reppert for the petitioners.

Several sentences were handed down this morning. Kim Savage, charged with larceny, assault and battery and pointing firearms, was sent to jail for a year. The court suspended sentence on the larceny and assault counts, but stated it could not overlook the fact that Savage made threats against the officer who took him in custody.

George Williams, caught in a gambling house, was fined $50 and costs. The court directed District Attorney Henderson to return the property seized during the raid to its proper owners, excepting the articles relating directly to the game of poker.

William Berg, convicted of desertion and non-support, was directed to pay his wife $5 a week. George Clark mixed up in the Bullskin township robberies of a year or so ago, was sent to jail for 90 days on the count of receiving stolen goods.

Alice Barnes, a 16 year old girl, goes to Huntingdon for the theft of $1.80 from a Hopwood family.

Arguments were heard this morning in the injunction proceedings instituted by Harry Beeson against the Harris Amusement Company and J. L. Kaufman. Beeson wants the defendants restrained from making changes in the West End theatre.

UNIONTOWN LOST MUCH ON BASEBALL.

Reported Here Deficit Was Something Over $9,000.

TOO MUCH FRENZIED FINANCE

Team Could Not Possibly Drop That Much Money If It Was Near the Salary Limit—Flirting for Bertha in the O. & P. Circuit.

The report from Uniontown that each director of the Uniontown baseball team will have to produce $1,000 to cover the deficit of the past season did not surprise the fans here. It has been an open secret all season that the Uniontown team was way over the salary limit, and the question is now asked as to what was President Gronninger doing all this time.

On June 1 the Connellsville club was required to certify to its salary limit. It is presumed Uniontown was required to do the same. Such a deficit could not have resulted from a $1,500 salary limit. It is said that the Uniontown club lost $9,000 on the season. The Cokers were about $2,000 behind the game, but they kept reasonably close to the salary limit.

According to reports from Uniontown, there will be no league baseball there next season unless some other parties are willing to assume some of the bills. The frenzied finance style of the game there will hardly appeal even to the real fans, who are willing to help support a team that is not too costly. Uniontown drew poorly all season and the gate receipts fell under the guarantee often than they exceeded it.

A. A. Straub of the local club announced this morning that Connellsville will have a team next year, and a good one. The local baseball people do not enthuse over the proposition of an eight club league having six of the teams in West Virginia. It is not unlikely that both Uniontown and Connellsville will try to land in the Ohio and Pennsylvania league, which had several wobbly franchises during the season just closed. Both Erie and Canton were in trouble at different times, while New Castle narrowly escaped a smash on the rocks. If Sharon does not land the Erie franchise, the Fayette county towns have a good chance to connect.

LOST A FINGER.

B. & O. Brakeman Meets With Painful Accident.

While coupling cars this morning B. & O. Brakeman John LaRue met with an accident which resulted in the loss of his second finger to the second joint and a portion of his third finger on his left hand. He was removed to the Cottage State hospital where it was found that the injured members were so badly mashed that amputation would be necessary. His third finger was amputated to the first joint. LaRue left the hospital following the operation.

After Liquor Agents.

County Detectives Alex McBeth and Frank McLaughlin have started a crusade against liquor agents who, it is alleged, are violating the court regulations. Outside agents, it is charged, are shipping beer and whiskey into the Monongahela river towns.

Wants to Serve Time.

Frank Altmo, a Fairchance man, appeared at the county jail at Uniontown yesterday and asked to be sent to jail for the costs in a case that went against him. He was persuaded to make an effort to pay them, the amount being small.

THE SECOND VICTIM AT UTICA IS DEAD

Theory That Murderous Lunatic Is at Large Seeking Death of Other Children.

United Press Telegram.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The second victim of the Italian child murders, little Ferdinand Infusino, aged two and a half years, died early today. The police are completely baffled by the mystery. They have no more of a clue than they had yesterday. They are at work on two theories, that the fatal shots were fired by an enemy of the Infusino and Percopia families or by a maniac.

It is feared that the latter theory is correct and that a murderous lunatic is still at large seeking the lives of other children. A reward of $250 has been offered for the arrest of the murderer. An additional $500 will likely be raised by the city council.

EDWARD F. ALLEN DIES AT BENCH.

Passed Away From Heart Failure at Crossland Carriage Works.

HE HAD BEEN WELL AS USUAL

Complained of Depressed Feeling About Heart, and Died Before a Doctor Could Reach Him—Came From Cumberland to Connellsville.

Every physician was out of his office when a telephone message was flashed over town in an attempt to secure medical attention for Edward F. Allen, a carriage maker, who died suddenly in the shops of the Crossland Carriage Company, on the West Side, at 10 o'clock this forenoon. Two physicians, Drs. C. W. Utts and R. S. McKee arrived shortly after the man had breathed his last and pronounced heart failure to be the cause of death.

Mr. Allen, who was about 75 years of age, and had worked in the Crossland shops since he came here from Cumberland, Md., on May 1, 1907, came to work feeling as well as usual. About 10 o'clock he complained of a depressed and painful feeling about his heart and fell in the pile of shavings in front of his work bench. A. S. Haddock, a fellow workman, picked the stricken man up and lay him on his bench hoping that he would revive there, while the office phone was put in action in an endeavor to secure a doctor. The doomed man's body gave a few convulsive struggles and rolled from the bench. When he was put back life was extinct.

The body was removed from the carriage shop and taken to the undertaking rooms of J. E. Sims, to be prepared for burial.

The deceased had lived for many years in Cumberland. He was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows fraternities, and had made his home with his only son, R. W. Allen of Sixth street, West Side. The son has been visiting in Cumberland, where three sisters live, his family having been there for the past week.

The deceased was a member of the Confederate army, and was a widower survived by the son named and three daughters in Cumberland, who were notified of their father's tragic death.

Receipts Were Fine.

The receipts of the pennant series between Uniontown and Fairmont were $1,106, and after the expenses were paid there was a net profit of $863 to divide between the two teams. The paid admissions at Uniontown on Monday were 983.

CRIMINAL COURT UP AT SOMERSET.

Eighty-Five Cases on the Docket for Opening Monday Morning.

MANY FOREIGNERS FIGURE

As Principals in the Suits Which Run From Murder Down to Trivial Charges—Rules of Court Are in Need of Revision.

SOMERSET, Pa., Sept. 14.—(Special.)—On Monday morning the regular September term of criminal court convened here with a list of 85 cases set for trial, most of which cases are of rather trivial nature. There is only one charge of murder on the list, George Halpit, a foreigner who is charged with causing the death of John Androsky at Hooversville by stabbing him. Androsky died in the Johnstown City Hospital from his wounds and the Coroner of Cambria county found that his death was caused by Halpit.

The Grand Jury ignored the bill in a charge of abortion preferred by John S. Shaffer against Dr. A. O. Barclay, a prominent Somerset physician, and the costs will be paid by the county.

Peter Miller of Somerset township was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury.

Judge Kooser made an order that hereafter there will be two naturalization courts held annually, on the second Monday of April and the second Monday of November. Heretofore it has been the practise to attend to the naturalization of foreigners at any court.

Attorney James L. Pugh stated that the present rules of court in Somerset county are in need of revision and Judge Kooser will likely appoint a committee to revise the rules shortly.

Of the 85 cases on the trial list three are charges of embezzlement, one of abortion, one selling oleomargarine, five false pretense, five malicious mischief, three burglary, one furnishing liquor, 10 larceny, two adultery, six fornication, three carrying concealed weapons, 11 assault and battery, two hawking and peddling, one cruelty to animals, one pointing firearms, 12 f. and b., one forgery, one mayhem, one robbery, one murder, one maintaining a nuisance, one violating mining laws, one defrauding boarding housekeeper, four desertion and non support, two threats, one practising medicine without a license, two removal and burial of dead body without permit, one neglecting roads, one seduction.

The first cases taken up are two charges of adultery against Mary Sweegle and Tony Yohi, the prosecutor being Frank Sweegle, and one charge of fornication against Yohi, Sweegle prosecutor. The parties reside in Windber, and the three cases will be tried together being based on the same facts.

WEATHER IS HOT.

Mercury Goes Up and is Change From Past Performances.

The weather during the past few days has been exceptionally warm and offers a strange contrast to that which existed during the latter part of August and earlier this month. The mercury this morning registered 70 degrees, the same as yesterday at the sames time.

Last evening 82 was reached, which is the highest mark attained for some time past.

Official Board Meeting.

A meeting of the official board of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held this evening at the church.

Mother Sanctioned Outrage on Daughter; She and Man in Jail.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 14.—As the result of criminal relations with Fannie Nedro, a 10 year old foreign girl of Percy, Andy Bygart was placed under arrest this morning by Deputy Constable Jesse McCann, while Nancy Nedro, the child's mother, was brought to jail last night by Constable J. K. Churns in connection with the same case. Informations against both have been made before Justice of the Peace George McCaully of Percy.

It is charged that the mother was cognizant of Bygart's relations with the girl and the officers declare she approved of them. He was a frequent visitor at the Nedro home. The child told her neighbors of the indignities to which she had been subjected by Bygart, and they, in turn, notified the police. The arrests followed their disclosures.

FOREIGNER RELEASED

From West Side Lockup After Case Was Investigated.

The foreigner who was arrested on Sunday at Adelaide by Constable William Roland of Dunbar township and placed in the West Side lockup pending an investigation on a charge of assault on a three year old child, was discharged, the case having been misrepresented.

The parents of the child failed to appear to make an information aginst the fellow.

WILL COST 10 CENTS.

After November 1, 1909, to Register a Letter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The fee for the registration of mail will be increased from eight to ten cents after November 1, 1909, according to an order signed by Postmaster General Hitchcock yesterday. The maximum indemnity allowed for the loss of a registered article has also been increased from $25 to $50 by the order.

BROWNSVILLE AUTO DRIVERS WERE DELUDED

They Thought George A. Markle Was Still Burgess of New Haven.

For reckless automobile driving on the West Side late last night, Officer Joseph O'Bryon arrested Noah H. English and Wm. Van Swearingen of Brownsville and a third man, whose name was not secured, and took them to the lockup on that side of the river where they posted forfeits for their appearance this morning and were permitted to leave.

It is said that these are the same offenders who had trouble in Uniontown several days ago as the result of fast driving.

The prisoners had an idea of their own that they were to be arraigned before George A. Markle. They were disillusioned by Officer Joseph O'Bryon who informed them that the two towns had been consolidated.

The men left a forfeit of $10 with the officer and the money was turned over to Burgess Evans this morning.

CONGRESS TO DIP INTO PINCHOT-BALLINGER ROW

Senate Committee Will Soon Start on Preliminary Investigation in Northwest.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—No matter what President Taft's decision on the Pinchot-Ballinger row may be it is practically assured that it will be the subject of a Congressional inquiry the coming winter. A preliminary investigation, one feature of the feud will begin in a few days when members of the Senate Committee on Indian affairs expects to start on a trip through the Northwest for the purpose of inquiring into conditions on the Indian reservations.

It is announced experts from both the Interior and Agricultural departments have been invited to accompany the Senators so both sides will be assured of a showing.

TYPHOID AT OLIPHANT.

There Are Six Cases in Little South Union Town.

OLIPHANT, Sept. 14.—(Special.)—Six cases of typhoid fever are reported here. All of the homes where the cases are located have been quarantined. The health officer of Uniontown is looking after the cases.

Some of the cases are severe, though no deaths have so far occurred. It is thought the water is responsible.

Pike Improvement.

Sealed bids for the improvement of one and a half miles of the National pike east of Brownsville have been forwarded to Harrisburg. The work will cost over $10,000.

Killed By a Larry.

Tobio Caracciolli, a foreigner employed at the Superior mines, near Derry, was run over by a larry and instantly killed Monday morning. He was 32 years of age.

Rist Has Resigned.

George T. Rist, employed at the B. & O. baggage room for the past several years, has resigned his position and this morning went to work at the Brondford distillery.

Dedication of Church.

St. Thomas Polish Catholic Church at Footdale was dedicated on Sunday. Many visiting priests from Western Pennsylvania attended the ceremonies.

MUST HAVE CASH IN POLICE COURT.

Burgess Evans Instructs Officers That Long Green Only Is Good for Forfeits.

FIVE OFFICERS MAKE ARREST

York Avenue Boys Charged With Cruelty to a Colt—No Names Appear on the Docket So None Developed at the Hearing.

Burgess J. L. Evans made it plain this morning that his office was not to be turned into a collection agency. The announcement came as the result of the discharge of three young men from custody during the night, with the following entry on the docket: "Larimer Stillwagon stands good for $5."

"There must be no more of this 'standing good' business here," the Burgess told Chief Rottler. "You will inform all officers that if they fail to have the money when a prisoner is released on a forfeit I will hold them responsible."

Five officers figured in the arrest, John A. Lowe, P. M. Rulli, Joseph O'Bryon, George Francis and James Francis. They were called to York avenue by Charles Reagon, who complained that his mare and colt were being abused by a party of roughs. The officers landed three of the alleged offenders in the ball park. One left his watch, while the other two got out upon the promise of Larimer Stillwagon to make good $5 each. The officers are given until 6 o'clock this evening to produce the $10 in police court.

Both Burgess Evans and Chief Rottler complained that the amount taken was not large enough. According to Mr. Reagon, the boys badly abused his horses and may have ruined the colt. It is possible that he may prosecute them before a Justice of the Peace.

Following the general custom, no names were taken at the time of the arrest and Mr. Reagon did not know who the boys were. Burgess Evans had not heard any of the testimony of the police making the arrest and none of the day men knew who the offenders were.

"It's the same crowd that has been making all kinds of trouble in that neighborhood of late," remarked the Burgess.

Five drunks and three train riders were arraigned before the Burgess. The drunks got the usual sentence, while the train riders were permitted to go on condition that they leave town immediately.

A NOISE LIKE MONEY ONLY ONE IN CHICAGO

Greatest Gathering of Financiers Ever Assembled Talking Over Prosperity Prescriptions Today.

United Press Telegram.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—All the noises like money from everywhere are concentrated in Chicago today for the greatest gathering of financiers that America has ever witnessed was meeting together when the 30th annual convention of the American Bankers' Association was called to order at 10 o'clock today. President Reynolds the session to order, and after an invocation by Governor Deneen of Illinois, Joseph T. Talbert delivered a short address of welcome.

At 12.15 the close of the regular morning session the convention was addressed in an informal way by Speaker Joseph G. Cannon.

Clint, McCoy, a young man well known in southern Fayette county, was killed on the new Monongahela bridge yesterday where he was employed. He had just returned from a visit with friends in Uniontown.

TRIPLE HONOR TO FAYETTE COUNTY.

Has Three Official Representatives In National Mining Congress

WHICH ASSEMBLES THIS MONTH

L. W. Fogg Chosen by Governor Stuart and George Whyel by Mayor Magee to Represent Pennsylvania as Delegates.

Fayette county has triple honors in her representation as a mining factor in the National Mining Congress in Goldfield, Nevada, from September 27 to October 2. Besides having J. V. Thompson of Uniontown, as the State Vice President from Pennsylvania, L. W. Fogg and George Whyel, both of Uniontown, have been named as delegates to the congress, which is the greatest and most important body of its kind in the United States, if not in the world.

Besides the ones named, it is probable that others will attend the Congress from Fayette and Westmoreland counties. The appointment of Mr. Fogg was made by Governor E. S. Stuart and that of Mr. Whyel by Mayor W. A. Magee of Pittsburg. The men have long been recognized as at the head of the profession and their being chosen as delegates is an official recognition of the high plane they have attained in the mining world. The congress is made up of the most distinguished engineers and experts, and they discuss not alone the economic features of the best mining practice, but also the best methods of conserving the lives of the underground workers.

Mr. Fogg has spent his lifetime in the mining world, laying out mines, sinking shafts, and building coke plants that are looked upon as model in every way. He is manager of the Tower Hill Connellsville Coke Company.

George Whyel, a brother of Harry Whyel, whose name is also a familiar one in the mining world, has enjoyed a notable career and for many years represented the State on the examining board that passes upon the fitness of candidates for the position of mine inspector in the bituminous regions. He is now engaged as Vice President and General Manager of the Consolidated Connellsville Coke Company and heads the big coal operations known as the Whyel interests.

Mr. Thompson, the State vice president of the congress, is known widely as a banker and coal expert, and has probably handled more coal lands than any man of the ties.

TREMENDOUS BLASTING FOR NEW COKE PLANT

Probably Biggest Blast Ever Set Off in County at New Allison Works of W. J. Rainey.

Probably the largest blast ever set off in Fayette county was that when 475 kegs of powder and 1,200 pounds of dynamite were exploded in the hillside at the new Allison works of W. J. Rainey on Monday. People for miles around that vicinity thought that the end of the world was being announced.

Thousands of cubic yards of earth were thrown out, the bed of Dunlap's creek filled, and a cavity torn out of the hillside large enough to start a shaft, and provide for a site for a boiler and engine house and other buildings.

A. J. Foye and Isaac Hurst are superintending the work and they have 170 men rushing construction on this plant as fast as possible to develop a solid block of coal between that and the Royal works, containing 2,700 acres. Three hundred ovens will be built, and about a third of them have been raised to the oven seats. They will be ready for firing when the shaft is completed. The Allison plant is located three miles on this side of Brownsville.

When the big load of explosives was set off by electric wiring and battery, it all having been sunk deeply in the earth, it looked as if the mountain side was heaved over for rocks weighing a ton or more were thrown several yards. The workmen began at once to clear the spot for the foundations of the buildings.

BANKER'S SUICIDE.

President of Union Trust Company, New York, Cuts Throat.

New York, Sept. 14.—John W. Castles, president of the Union Trust company of this city, capitalized at $1,000,000, a director in other well known corporations and prominent in club and social life in this city and the south, cut his throat from ear to ear in the Grand Union hotel and was found dead stretched across a bed. He had been in ill health for some time and his suicide is ascribed solely to a nervous breakdown and not to financial troubles.

The body, dressed only in the under garments, was lying across the bed in his room, while on a table near by was a bloody razor with which he had ended his life. Examination showed that he had severed both the windpipe and the cartoid artery, but notwithstanding this had made his way to the bed before he expired. The position of the razor leads to the belief that he stood before a mirror while slashing his throat.

Alexander S. Cochran, a director of the Union Trust company, speaking officially for that institution, said positively that Mr. Castles' suicide had no bearing whatever on financial matters. He was simply an overworked man, was Mr. Cochran's explanation of his act.

BOTH MAY BE WRONG

French Scientist Contributes His Opinion in Peary-Cook Controversy.

New York, Sept. 14.—The opinion of a noted French scientist cabled from Paris gave warning that the north pole controversialists may defeat their own ends. It was the first definite expression of belief that both Commander Peary and Dr. Cook might be wrong in believing they had attained the top of the earth.

A third side like this generally forms when controversies of this nature have reached a certain stage, and the opinion of Raymond Lestonnat, the member of the French superior council of navigation, only expresses a doubt which has added great interest to the controversy.

At the same time there is evident a disposition on both sides to await the arrival of both Peary and Cook on American soil before making further charges or presenting more evidence.

150 MORE WARRANTS

Reformers Going After Saloonkeepers at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 14.—Reformers swore 150 additional warrants for the arrest of saloon and cafe proprietors who have been violating the Sunday closing laws of this resort.

They are now in the possession of Magistrate John W. Hughes, who states that they will be served by constables imported from Ocean City and Camden. In the event of the liquor sellers declining to respond to to the summonses they will be taken by force if necessary.

PEARY REPEATS CHARGES AGAINST DR. COOK

Says His Claims That He Reached the North Pole Are Simply Untrue

United Press Telegram.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 11.—Reiterating that Dr. Cook falsified in the declaration that he has reached the North Pole, but giving little further details of his own dash and ommitting any mention of Harry Whitney, Commander Peary today is quoted here in a message by wireless from Battle Harbor.

Replying to Dr. Cook's claim he says: "It is simply untrue. I expressed myself clearly, I think, in my dispatches that Cook's attempts to prove to scientists that he reached the pole, will be futile." Peary says it is pretty generally known the Cook party was expected to get back about this time. He gives scant details, saying the trip was not so dangerous as others.

SCANDAL IN COUNCIL OVER BLACKBIRDS

Ligonier People Say Six Blackbirds That Disturbed a Councilman Cost Borough $32.

LIGONIER, Sept. 11.—The tax payers of this town are not resting easy over the acts which have been done by the Chief of Police and Town Council. It is alleged that $32 has been paid by the Town Council to cancel a fine for killing six blackbirds.

It is alleged that one of the members of council ordered the policeman to shoot the blackbirds that were roosting in trees in front of his house and annoying him while a party was being held. No sooner were the six birds killed than a game warden had to be reckoned with. The fine would have been $60 but the policeman went and "gave himself up" thus saving half of the fine. It is also alleged that at a meeting of council the policeman presented the bill and that it was immediately o. k'd.

PLENTY OF FUN.

When the Boston Belles Come to the Casino Theatre.

The coming of the Boston Belles to the Casino theatre, Thursday, September 16 promises plenty of good fun, many handsome girls and a company of lively comedians and excellent singers. a strong company is necessary for a proper interpretation of the important roles in the two burlesques which this organization is giving this season. These are called "My Cousin's Arrival" and "One Night in Hotel Shantytown."

A big company is employed to play the important roles in conjunction with the big Broadway Beauty Chorus and as an added attraction The Great Everett, the handcuff king will make his first appearance with this company. Everett will forfeit $1000 to any person that will bring a pair of handcuffs that he cannot get out of. Seats sold in advance at the Soisson theatre.

Weak? Tired? Run-down?

These conditions come from overwork, a weak stomach, overtaxed nerves or feeble blood. When you feel "all in"—hardly able to drag about, no energy, no ambition, easily exhausted and can't sleep—take and note what a difference they make in your condition. The stomach is the first to feel the good effects. Food tastes good, the digestion is strengthened bowels and bile work regularly, the blood is cleansed, and the nerves rested. The whole system responds to the tonic action of Beecham's Pills. Ladies' Hats

BEECHAM'S PILLS

An Exquisite Collection of

Fall Millinery

Hundreds of beautiful creations now being shown in our Millinery Department. Deft hands and artistic talent added many beauties for this season's showing of Ladies' Hats, making it of much interest to millinery lookers and critics. We show a grandassortment of natty effects in silk and felt shapes, also Imported Beavers, and French Silk Beavers, in all the new shades, some trimmed with ostrich, Mercury Coques, Pampans and Wings at the lowest possible cost, also a big collection of Children's Hats in all colors.

THE BIG STORE.

I WISH TO ANNOUNCE to the ladies that after some effort on my part I succeeded in arranging to spend the month of July under the instruction of Mr. Amon, a French ladies tailor, who had for ten years cut for Redfern of Paris, and who by the way is the man who taught Mr. Fullaytar of Pittsburg

I wish to say that I am now prepared to execute first-class in the production of Ladies' Tailored and Princess Gowns, in any of the popular styles.

The Fashion Plates I carry are the best procurable, and are Paris publications

I should be glad to have you call that I may show you my line of exclusive novelties in any of the late shades, I have them all.

HOW GREENE COUNTY CAN GET A RAILROAD.

"Where is the Board of Trade? inquires the Washington Record and, why does it not do something to establish a modern system of transportation between Washington and Waynesburg." The Record says:

For years the progress of Greene county, especially Waynesburg, the county seat, has been retarded by lack of transportation facilities. To this day the only outlet and entry for freight is by a narrow gauge railroad, conducted as a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania system. The rates are so high that they make Waynesburg prohibitive as a manufacturing town.

Every once in a while rumors are set afloat that the Pennsy is going to do something for Waynesburg. They are going to electrify the present system or they are going to eliminate the needless curves and windings of the narrow gauge or they are going to make the road standard gauge. The latest of these rumors was published in a morning daily of Washington which has become noted for its irresponsible utterances. The rumor was to the effect that the Pennsylvania people had decided to electrify the Waynesburg and Washington branch.

It is time for the people of Waynesburg and everybody along the thirty-two tortuous miles of zig-zag track between the Greene county seat and Washington to pay no heed to these promises, but to tell the Pennsy officials to make good. The distance between the two towns is not so great that it is too big a task for local capital to construct a real railroad as a relief for present conditions.

An electric line is now under construction which will connect Waynesburg and the towns along the Monongahela valley. This line will be all right for passenger traffic up that direction, but it will not relieve the conditions which have kept Waynesburg in the background for half a century. It is the freight rates which hamper Waynesburg. Everything shipped to Waynesburg from points further away than Washington must be loaded and unloaded twice, in order to make the transfer from the standard guage to the narrow gauge.

Not only are these conditions detrimental to Waynesburg but they are also detrimental to Washington. The logical outlet from Waynesburg to the outside world is through Washington. Therefore the business men of this place should do something to head off any scheme to throw the traffic in another direction. The people of Greene county will not put up with present conditions for all time. They are thoroughly aroused now. They have decided to take over and operate the old tin plate plant, and at the same time they realize that the products of their plant cannot be shipped to outside points at a profit when the present expense of shipment is considered.

Where is the Board of Trade? We have an organization which is supposed to look after the industrial welfare of the community. It should be up and doing, or golden opportunities will be thrown away.

Greene county has been waiting for a modern standard-gauge railway for years, but it has not come because the community of railroad interest which does not approve of opening up new freight territory until there seems to be a tangible and insistent demand therefor, has been waiting for the psychycological moment.

This feeling has kept the Greene county coal field in an undeveloped state, but just as soon as the owners of the coal in Greene county, or any considerable number of them, indicate their purpose to develop and operate their coal holdings, and if necessary to build their own line of railway, just so soon will the railway systems of the country rush pell-mell into the field.

It's only another case of the Lord helping those who try to help themselves.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF ROAD SUPERVISORS.

The Brownsville township Road Supervisorship case, which promised some interesting deliverances on the intent and meaning of the new law, has failed of its illumination by reason of the fact that the defendants pled guilty and threw themselves upon the mercy of the court alleging mitigating circumstances.

No doubt the circumstances were mitigating in that the law needs intelligent interpretation, and the action of the Brownsville township Supervisors defeated that promised result.

But their plea, its acceptance by the court and the court's direction indicate quite plainly how the law should be interpreted. Supervisors should take notice.

DEATHS.

Henry Blackstone Boyd.

After a lingering illness Henry Blackstone Boyd, aged 62 years, a Baltimore & Ohio engineer for 25 years, died this morning at 9 30 o'clock, at his late home on Main street, West Side. Mr. Boyd was born in Bullskin township, April 13, 1847. He was a son of Thomas Boyd, a millright, and Sara Newcomer Boyd. His father was of Irish descent and his mother of German descent, the former dying in the West Side in 1894, the latter in Fayette county in 1840. Mr. Boyd was educated in the Connellsville public schools and on leaving school he commenced driving horses and cattle from Athens county, Ohio, and Western Pennsylvania to the Eastern markets, Philadelphia, and elsewhere. He was afterwards connected with the civil engineering corps surveying for the Connellsville Railroad to Cumberland, Md. He was later dreman on a locomotive for the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company for one year and eleven months, when he was promoted to be engineer by this company and ran as engineer for ten years.

On leaving this company he went into the service of the D. S. Criswell Oil Company in Venango county, as superintendent of their works. He was in this position for one year when he went to Kittanning, Pa., and entered the service of the Kittanning Iron Company as engineer of the blast furnace and from there he went into the service of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as engineer and has been running an engine for that company, both freight and passenger, up until about 1908, when he retired from work owing to ill health. He was pinced on the pension list about three months ago. He was considered by the company as one of their most faithful and able engineers. He served several terms on the New Haven School Board and resigned while serving his last term owing to his poor health. He was a staunch Republican and always was in favor of any public movement made for the welfare of his home town.

Mr. Boyd was married in Oil City, July 4, 1860, to Miss Elizabeth Bole Shaffer, her parents being of German descent. To the union five children were born, Mrs. Gertrude Boyd Crouse, deceased, Mrs. Emily Blackstone Cunningham, wife of Rev. W. D. Cunningham, missionary to Japan; Mrs. Ralph E. Porter, Mrs. Harriet Swartzwelder, all of Connellsville, and Harry T. Boyd of Oliphant, Pa., a veteran of the Spanish-American war, having enlisted in Company D, April 9, 1898. He was at one time an Odd Fellow and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, having resigned from the latter order on account of his health. His widow, three brothers, John N. Boyd, of the West Side, Lester N. Boyd of Colfax, Wash., Joseph F. Boyd of Grandridge, Ill., and one sister, Mrs. Mary A. Springer, of Clinton, Ia., also survive.

In 1908 Mr. Boyd was stricken with a stroke of paralysis and since that time his condition gradually grew worse. Since last Thanksgiving he has been confined to his bed. Friday his condition became much worse and this morning he sank into an unconscious condition remaining in that state up until the time of his death. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from his late home.

Mrs. Nathan Davies.

Word was received here this morning announcing the death of Mrs. Nathan Davies which occurred yesterday at her late home at Sharon, Pa. Mrs Davies was well known in Connellsville having resided at South Connellsville for a number of years. Mr. Davies was a roller in the tin plate mill at that place. About a year ago the family left South Connellsville for their new home at Sharon. About a week ago Mrs. Davies was taken suddenly ill of peritonitis which resulted in her death.

She is survived by her husband and the following children Mrs. Margaret Davies Newcomer, of South Connellsville; William, Polly, Blodwin, Linda, and Marvia Davies, all at home. Funeral services will be held from her late home Thursday afternoon.

How to Cure Insomnia In Summer.

Insomnia is more prevalent in summer than at any other period of the year. The excessive heat causes restlessness, and the HEART AND BRAIN ARE PROMPTED INTO INCREASED ACTIVITY.

A well known New York physician recommends the following method of inducing sleep in the torrid months:

"A bath of moderate duration in lukewarm water just before retiring will be found to be an encourager of sleep.

"But the person should take care not to dry himself thoroughly nor rub himself with a rough towel so that the circulation is stimulated.

"The idea is that by merely wiping off the body so that it is yet damp at the end of the bath the body retains the soothing and quieting effects of the warm water. The stimulus supplied by brisk rubbing would overcome those effects, as would water of extremes of temperature."

WEATHER FORECAST.
Western Pennsylvania—Fair today; Wednesday, increasing cloudiness, moderate south winds.

New Dress Materials for Fall and Winter

New goods are constantly arriving and our shelf room is being crowded to the limit. Every department of this old reliable store is now showing the new and some stocks are almost complete. You are invited to call and inspect our lines that you may know just what Dame Fashion has set her mark of approval on for the present season. We are always glad to show our goods whether you buy or not.

50c Suitings

At this price we are showing an exceptional lot of values. Not only are the materials of extra quality, but many of the best and newest shades are represented in the lot as well as the choicest novelties. They are desirable materials for suits, separate skirts, school coats and school dresses. Fabrics are plain and fancy serge, batiste, Shepherd plaid, chicks and novelties, in 36 to 40 inches wide, 50c.

$1.00 Suitings.

We have always led the way in offering dress goods values at this price. One dollar has always been a popular price and we have added to its popularity by showing values that are usually shown elsewhere at a higher price. This season will find our dollar suitings especially popular on account of the big assortment of patterns and complete showing of new shades. Plain and fancy Prunellas, plain and fancy serges, chevlots, satin face, poplins, etc. Included in the lot are fabrics suitable for evening gowns in the more delicate tints. Widths are 40 and 42 inches. We've a 50 inch broadcloth in dark colors which is a special value at $1.00.

Table Linens.

Just arrived. A clean new stock of the very choicest things on the market. We've an established reputation for fine linens. Why? Because they are absolutely all pure linen, not a single thread of cotton in the entire stock. Every piece is full width, nothing under 72 inches wide and prices are as low as close buying can make them. They are Andrew Reed's fine imported satin finish Damask, bleached and unbleached with napkins to match. We are also showing special designs for round tables in floral and conventional designs. Call and see the Scotch Waistings.

A complete line of these in all wool materials, new stripes and fancy figures. They are 36 inches wide and priced low, 50c.

Wool Challies.

A new showing of these in fall patterns at 50c. A good assortment of colors is represented in checks, dots, stripes, etc. They are all pure wool, 27 inches wide, and most suitable for children's garments.

THAT PLAN NEVER LOST A MERCHANT ONE PENNY.

(Copyright, 1909, by W. B. U.)

Quality Tells

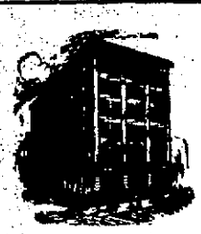

In no part of your clothing does quality tell more than in shoes. Where cheap leather is used you get poor service as well as shabby looking footwear. As soon as the finish is gone the shoes show it. Use good leathers in the shoes throughout uppers, soles, counters and heels, then with good shoe-making you have shoes that will look well, wear well and give full value in service for your money. The quality of our men's Nettleton Shoes never disappoints—ask any of the hundreds of men who wear the Nettleton and you'll find the man perfectly satisfied with his shoes. They cost you $5.00 and $5.50. All leathers.

The Aaron Store Announces a Timely and Splendid

Special Information Regarding this Sale.

Every article marked with original price tag and large special sale tag showing the extent of the price reduction.

SEPTEMBER SALE

Special Information Regarding this Sale.

Any purchase you may make will be stored without charge until you are ready for them.

SEPTEMBER 13 TO SEPTEMBER 30 of Brand New Fall Furniture, Carpets, Rugs and Curtains----All New and All at Reduced Prices.

We give you this golden opportunity to secure brand new goods at reduced prices because we think it is the quickest and best way to interest you in early buying for Fall. You will remember that we worked this same plan a year ago and with tremendous results. The idea is not as new as it was then, but this sale will eclipse the first one because it has the benefit of the first sale's success to help it along.

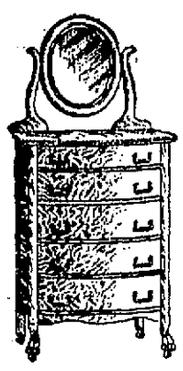

Remember the reduced prices apply to the very goods we have just received from the factories, embracing all the finest, latest and most beautiful designs and ptterns. There's not an old one in the whole sale. And also remember that we show the new effects nearly a year in advance of other stores because we control the marketing of so many goods in this territory. You probably know this from experience.

Every article on sale bears both the original price and the reduced one, showing in dollars and cents exactly what you save. We use no secret code of marking prices, but use the good old fashioned dollars and cents. Any goods you buy now will be stored without charge until you are ready for delivery—whether you want a single piece of furniture or a whole home outfit. Could you ask anything better.

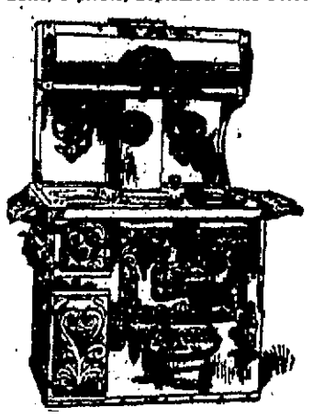

AND DON'T FORGET YOUR CREDIT IS AS GOOD AS GOLD.

PRESIDENT TAFT LEAVES BEVERLY.

His Summer Vacation Comes to an End To-day.

STARTS FOR WEST TOMORROW

Tonight He Is Guest of Boston Chamber of Commerce and To-morrow Morning He Leaves For Chicago.

Beverly Mass, Sept 14—The president's vacation came to an end this afternoon when he left for Boston in his motor car The executive offices in the board of trade building closed immediately after the president's departure and all the clerks and attaches left for Washington

It is now Mrs Taft's intention to remain in Beverly until Nov 16, when it is expected that the president will arrive here to take her back to Washington Returning to Washington Nov 10 from his western trip, the president will leave there again on the afternoon of the eleventh to attend the installment of a new president of Wesleyan university at Middletown, Conn It is the plan for the president to come direct here from Washington, spend the morning in Beverly and reach Middletown in the afternoon

The president will attend a banquet of the chamber of commerce at Boston tonight and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock will leave for his long trip in the west and south His first stop will be Chicago, where he will arrive Thursday

Chicago Ready For Taft.

Chicago, Sept. 14—In anticipation of a great influx of country visitors on the occasion of President Taft's visit to Chicago next Thursday, Chief of Detectives Wood prepared to free the city of confidence men, pickpockets and "police characters" generally.

Captain Wood called fifty detectives before him and instructed them to sweep the streets clean of the gentry who prey on the unwary

Every minute of the president's stay here has been mapped out and Leroy T Steward, the chief of police, has arranged for the closest police guard at every point. The chief has scouted over every foot of ground which the president will cover.

The box which the president and party will occupy at the National league baseball park when the Chicago and New York clubs meet is being refitted with chairs of ample comfort The box is back of first base near the Chicago players' bench and is considered by the majority of enthusiasts to be the most advantageous position in the stands

DIRECTORS ELECTED

"Harriman Idea" Will Continue In Management of Railroads.

New York Sept 14—The continuance of the Harriman policies in the management of Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and the chain of allied railroads was made certain, temporarily at least when Robert S Lovett E H Harriman's personal counsel and close friend was elected to succeed Mr Harriman at the head of the executive committee of the Union Pacific railroad To strengthen further the dominance of the "Harriman Idea Jacob H Schiff and William Rockefeller were elected directors in place of Mr Harriman and the late H H Rogers

The Union Pacific still remains without a president Mr Harriman occupied this position also It is understood however, that an operating man—probably L F Loree president of the Delaware and Hudson, will be elected for the place at the annual meeting of stockholders to be held on Oct. 12.

EULOGY OF HARRIMAN

Is Delivered In Wall Street by Rev Dr. Wilkinson.

New York Sept 14—Before a crowd of several hundred men and boys in Wall street Rev Dr William Wilkinson one of the clergy of Trinity church parish, delivered an eulogy of the late Edward H Harriman.

Dr Wilkinson mounted a chair at the corner of Wall and Broad streets opposite the stock exchange at the noon hour and soon had a crowd about him The preacher began his remarks with a prayer and scriptural reading and then said

"Mr Harriman was upright and noble all through his life Many of you young men around me are in better circumstances than was Mr Harriman when he was your age and if you live as he did perhaps in time you will reach the same position I want to impress upon you that all rich men are not scoundrels and all poor men are not knaves and fools To be is higher than to have"

Fall River Operatives Out.

Fall River Mass, Sept 14—The entire plant of the Fall River Iron works mills owned by M C D Borden of New York which were shut down following a strike of the weavers will remain closed and the 5,000 operatives will continue in idleness The iron works plant comprises seven mills and is the largest concentrated cotton manufacturing plant in the world owned by a single individual.

Jewish New Year Comes Tomorrow With the Setting of the Sun.

With the setting of the sun tomorrow evening begins the Jewish New Year One of the most solemn seasons of the whole year is at hand for the Jewish people.

All over the world it will be observed with prayer, with various religious ceremonies and with close examination, each man of his own conscience.

For the Jewish New Year is a time of self-judgment, when each reviews his life for the past 12 months and takes an inventory of his deeds, good and bad, and with humble prayerful earnestness enters upon a New Year with a new spirit of repentance for the past and hope for the future

"This is a period of repentance, reflection and resolution,' said Dr. J. Leonard Levy the noted Pittsburg divine. "On Wednesday evening at sunset begins the religious ceremonies which mark this most solemn period for the Jewish people For ten days they meditate upon the years which have past and upon the possibilities of the years to come The last day, which will be the 25th of September, is the Day of Atonement. This is the most solemn day of all

Many religious ceremonies mark this season of the year But greater stress is laid on the mental attitude of the people than upon outward observances of the day, although these are held to closely, too

"The season has a beautiful significance The summer is fast going by and a new season is about to begin The sowing and reaping are over and shortly, a new period of labor will be commenced by the farmer

Face New Tasks.

"The merchant has returned from his summer rest and a new stock is about to be handled in his store The vacation is over and a new school term has just begun The religious classes have opened afresh and the work of the temple, which has almost ceased for a couple of months starts anew to continue until next summer It is clear that a new year of work is about to begin.

"We should not meet this new period with the sincere promise that tomorrow will find us better than today, that no day shall pass in which we will not do some good, that we will think of the welfare of our minds and hearts and souls, that we will improve ourselves and help someone, that we will strive to keep the name Jew free from shame If in this spirit, we begin, and if in this spirit we continue, the end of the year will find us nobler, wiser, better"

"There is an ancient tradition' said Rabbi Rudolph I Coffee, of the Tree of Life Synagogue, that on this New Year's day judgment is written in Heaven concerning every Israelite, and his fate for the coming year is decided Therefore we call the occasion the 'Day of Judgment' On that day God inscribes our destinies in a book and each man prays that his name may be enrolled in the 'Book of Life' This is a beautiful allegory Of course, man's judgment is written every day and every hour of every day But the little allegory is a beautiful one for all that To emphasize this point of judgment, is the great lesson of the New Year The day is said to commemorate the creation of the world, and we gather in the houses of God to be re-created During the year, business cares burden us.

'We may have fallen into certain weaknesses Our aims in life may have been lowered and the fine gold of our noble intentions perhaps mixed with a baser alloy The arrival of the New Year must needs give us pause This day we take a spiritual inventory of our belongings turn our thoughts from the material to the real wealth in life and seek to put ourselves in tune with the infinite Especially is this day an oasis in the desert to those who have suffered the sting of defeat and severe losses It bids us welcome a new era, and open a fresh chapter in life's history Here we stand, fronting a New Year A message of optimism rules the day. May God encourage us to a higher and nobler performance of our future duties and may the spiritual lessons of the day abide with us throughout the year"

"There is a peculiar significance about New Year this year said Rabbi M S Sivitz "In olden times the Jews set apart one year out of every seven in which the ground should rest For the whole year no plowing, sowing, reaping or storing of harvests of any kind was done The burden of fruit which the trees bore was given away to any who came Even flowers were not cultivated For six years preparation was made by the people held to, this coming New Year would for this one year If the old law were held to this coming New Year would be the beginning of that year of rest for the land But very few Jews are able to keep the old law Circumstances compel them to work this year, as any other But in many places farms will lie idle the whole year

"This season is a very solemn one for us There is no frivolity or unseemingly mirth or feasting throughout the 10 days which are set aside for repentance and reflection after the New Year's Day We must hold our hearts and purposes high and pure and prepare for the duties and cares and responsibilities of the year which is coming to us

I would say to the Jews to hold fast in their hearts the meaning of the New Year and to let God say, of their lives and intents as at the creation And God saw everything and it was good"

"It is a time now when people shall think seriously of their responsibilities to each other and to God said Rabbi A W Kochin they must put the past behind them. It is over and done with It is the future that must concern them We all should begin this year with a heart full of goodness toward all the world with a deep religious sense of our responsibility and with a determination to do well by all people and by God"

Where There Is So Much Smoke

There Is Always Some Fire

When people talk about one thing and keep on talking as they do about the discovery that created so much newspaper comment in Fort Wayne and other cities during the past summer, even though many reports may be exaggerated, there must be some merit in the discovery, and when people spend their money for a thing and then buy more of it proof of merit becomes so convincing that it becomes the duty of every person in need of Root Juice to go to the drug store and get a bottle of this much talked of remedy Root Juice cures rheumatism and catarrh because it puts the filtering machines of the body to work and causes them to filter the impurities of the blood Root Juice cures stomach and bowel troubles because it removes irritated and ulcerated conditions from the mucuous linings and cause a natural flow of digestive fluids Root Juice is so good for female weakness because it tones and heals the organs that make and filter blood

Good, rich blood will nourish and strengthen every weak part of the body Root Juice is sold for one dollar a bottle, or three bottles for two dollars and a half at Graham & Company's drug store

The Lure of the Mask

By HAROLD MAC GRATH

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

"I have my two hands, signor. Besides, the signor has said it—I am rich." Giovanni permitted a smile to stir his thin lips. "Yes, I must go back. Your people have been good to me and have legally made me one of them, but my heart is never here. It is always so cold, and every one moves so quickly. You cannot lie down in the sun. Your police, bah! They beat you on the feet. You remember when I fell asleep on the steps of the cathedral? They thought I was drunk and would have arrested me!"

"Everybody must keep moving here. It is the penalty of being rich."

"And I am lonesome for my kind. I have nothing in common with these herds of Sicilians and Neapolitans who pour into the streets from the wharfs." Giovanni spoke scornfully.

"Yet in wartime the Neapolitans sheltered your pope."

"Vanity! They wished to make an impression on the rest of the world. It is dull here besides. There is no joy in the shops. I am lost in these great palaces. The festa is lacking. Nobody bargains; nobody sees the proprietor. You find your way to the streets alone. The butcher says that his meat is so and so, and you pay. The grocer marks his tins such and such, and you do not question, and the baker says that, and you pay, pay, pay! What? I need a collar; it is quindici—fifteen you say! I offer quattordici. I would give interest to the sale. But, no! The collar goes back into the box. I pay quindici or I go without. It is the same everywhere—very dull, fiend, lifeless."

Hilliard was moved to laughter. He very well understood the old man's lament. In Italy if there is one thing more than another that pleases the native it is to make believe to himself that he has got the better of a bargain. A shrewd purchase enlivens the whole day. It is talked about, laughed over and becomes the history of the day.

Hilliard presently left the house and hailed a Fifth avenue omnibus. He looked with negative interest at the advertisements, at the people in the streets, at his fellow travelers. One of these was hidden behind his morning paper. Personals! Hilliard squirmed a little. The world never holds very much romance in the sober morning. What a stupid piece of folly! The idea of his sending that personal inquiry to the paper! Tomorrow he would see it sandwiched in between samples of shopgirl romance, questionable intrigues and divers search warrants. Ye gods! "Will the blond who smiled at gentleman in blue serge, elevated train, Tuesday, meet same in park? Object, matrimony." Hilliard fidgeted. "Young man known as Adonis would adore stout elderly lady independently situated. Object, matrimony." Pish! "Girlie. Can't keep appointment tonight. Willie." Tush! "A French widow of eighteen, unincumbered," and so forth and so on. Rot, bally rot, and here he was on the way to join them! "Will the lady who sang from 'Mme. Angot' communicate with gentleman who leaned out of the window? J. H., Burgomaster Club." Positively asinine!

There was scarce one chance in a thousand of the mysterious singer's seeing the inquiry, not one in ten thousand of her answering it. And the folly of giving his club address! That would look very dignified in yonder agony column. He would cancel the thing.

He dropped from the omnibus at the park entrance, where he found his restive mare. He gave her a lump of sugar and climbed into the saddle. He directed the groom to return for the horse at 10 o'clock, then headed for the bridle path. It was heavy, but the air was so keen and bracing that neither the man nor the horse worried about the going. Only one party attracted him, a riding master and a trio of brokers who were verging on embonpoint and were desperate and looked it. Hilliard went on. The park was not lovely; the trees were barren, the grass yellow and sodden.

"She is so innocent, so youthful!"

He found himself humming the refrain over and over. She had sung it with abandon, tenderness, lightness. For one glimpse of her face! He took the rise and dip that followed. Yards ahead a solitary woman cantered easily along. Hilliard had not seen her before. He spurred forward, faintly curious. There was nothing familiar to his eye in her charming figure. She rode well. As he drew nearer he saw that she wore a heavy gray veil. And this veil hid everything but the single flash of a pair of eyes the color of which defied him. Then he looked at her mount. Ha! There was only one nappy black with a white throat—from the Sandford stables, he was positive. But the Sandfords were at this moment in Cairo, so it signified nothing. There is always some one ready to exercise your horses. He looked again at the rider. The flash of the eyes was not repeated, so his interest vanished, and he urged the mare into a sharp run.

So he went back to his tentative romance. She had passed his window and disappeared into the fog, and there was a reasonable doubt of her ever returning from it. The singer in the fog—thus he would write it down in his book of memories and sensibly turn the page. At length he came back to the entrance and surrendered the mare. He was about to cross the square when he was hailed.

Hilliard wheeled and saw Merrihew. He, too, was in riding breeches.

"Why, Dan, glad to see you. Were you in the park?"

"Riverside. Beastly cold too. Come join me in a cup of good coffee."

The two entered the cafe.

"How are you behaving yourself these days?" asked Merrihew.

"My habits are always exemplary," answered Hilliard. "But yours?"

Merrihew gulped his coffee.

"Kitty Killigrew leaves in two weeks for Europe."

"And who the deuce is Kitty Killigrew?" demanded Hilliard.

"What!" reproachfully. "You haven't heard of Kitty Killigrew in 'The Modern Maid?' Where have you been? Pippin! Prettiest soubrette that's hit the town in a dog's age."

"I say, Dan, don't you ever tire of that sort? I can't recall when there wasn't a Kitty Killigrew. What's the attraction?" Hilliard waved aside the big black cigar. "What's the attraction?"

"The truth is, Jack, I'm a jackass half the time. I can't get away from the glamour of the footlights. I'm no Johnny. You know that. No hanging around stage entrances and buying wine and diamonds. I might be reckless enough to buy a bunch of roses when I'm not broke. But I like 'em the bright ones. They keep a fellow amused. Most of 'em speak good English and come from better families than you would suppose. Just good fellowship, you know. Maybe a rabbit and a bottle of beer after the performance or a little quarter limit at the apartment, singing and good stories. What you're in mind is the chorus lady. Not for mine!"

Hilliard laughed, recalling his conversation with the policeman.

"Go on," he said. "Get it all out of your system now that you're started."

"And then it tickles a fellow's vanity to be seen with them at the restaurants. That's the way it begins, you know. I'll be perfectly frank with you. If it wasn't for what the other fellows say most of the chorus ladies would go hungry. And the girls that you and I know think I'm a devil of a fellow—wicked, but interesting, and all that."

Hilliard's laughter broke forth again, and he leaned back. Merrihew would always be twenty-six; he would always be youthful.

"And this Kitty Killigrew? I believe I've seen posters of her in the windows now that you speak of it."

"Well, Jack, I've got it bad this trip. I offered to marry her last night and was refused."

"It seems to me that your Kitty is not half bad. What would you have done had she accepted you?"

"Married her within twenty-four hours."

"Come, Dan; be sensible. You are not such an ass as all that."

"Yes, I am," moodily. "I told you that I was a jackass half the time. This is the half."

"But she won't have you?"

"Not for love or money."

"Are you sure about the money?" asked Hilliard shrewdly.

"Seven hundred or seven thousand, it wouldn't matter to Kitty if she made up her mind to marry a fellow. What's the matter with me anyhow? I'm not so badly set up. I can whip any man in the club at my weight. I can tell a story well, and I'm not afraid of anything."

"Not even of the future!" added Hilliard.

"Do you really think it's my money?" pathetically.

"Well, seven thousand doesn't go far, and that's all you have. If it were seventy, now, I'm sure Kitty wouldn't reconsider. What's she like?" asked Hilliard, with more sympathy than curiosity.

Merrihew drew out his watch and opened the case. It was a pretty face. More than that, it was a refined prettiness. The eyes were merry; the brow was intelligent; the nose and chin were good. Altogether it was the face of a merry, kindly little soul, one such as would be most likely to trap the wandering fancy of a young man like Merrihew.

"And she won't have you?" Hilliard repeated, this time with more curiosity than sympathy.

"Oh, she's no fool, I suppose. And now she's going to Europe! Some manager has the idea in his head that there is money to be made in Italy and Germany during the spring and summer. American comic opera in those countries—can you imagine it? He has an angel, and I suppose money is no object."

"This angel, then, has cut out a fine time for his bank account, and he'll never get back to heaven once he gets tangled up in foreign red tape. Every large city in Italy and Germany has practically its own opera troupe. Poor

"I long to get my hands around her throat!"

angel! Tell your Kitty to strike for a return ticket to America before she leaves."

"You think it's as bad as that?"

"Look on me as a prophet of evil, if you like, but truthful."

"I'll see that Kitty gets her ticket." Merrihew snapped the case of his watch and drew his legs from under the table. "I lost a hundred last night too."

"After that I suppose nothing worse can happen," said Hilliard cheerily. "You will play, for all my advice."

"It's better to give than receive—that," replied Merrihew philosophically. "I've a good mind to follow the company. I've always had a hankering to beat it up at Monte Carlo. A last throw, eh? Win or lose and quit. I might win."

"And then again you mightn't. But the next time I go to Italy I want you to go with me. You're good company, and for the pleasure of listening to your jokes I'll gladly foot the bills, and you may gamble your letter of credit to your heart's content. I must be off. Who is riding the Sandfords' black?"

"Haven't noticed. What do you think of Kitty?"

"Charming."

"And the photo isn't a marker."

"Possibly not."

"Lord, if I could only hibernate for three months like a bear! My capital might then readjust itself if left alone that length of time."

"See you at the club tonight," laughed Hilliard.

They nodded pleasantly and took their separate ways. Merrihew stood very high in Hilliard's regard. He was a lovable fellow, and there was something kindred in his soul and Hilliard's, possibly the spirit of romance. What drew them together perhaps more than anything else was their mutual love of outdoor pleasures. Take two men and put them on good horses, send them forth into the wilds to face all inconveniences, and if they are not fast friends at the end of the journey they never will be.

For all his aversion to cards there was a bit of the gamester in Hilliard, as once in his office he decided on the fall of a coin not to withdraw his personal from the paper. He was quite positive that he would never hear that voice again; but, having thrown his dice, he would let them lie.

Now, at 11 o'clock that same morning two distinguished Italians sat down to breakfast in one of the fashionable hotels. The one nor the other had ever heard of Hilliard. They did not even know that such a person existed, and yet serenely unconscious one was casting his life line, as the palmist would say, across Hilliard's. The knots and tangles were to come later.

Something From Nothing.

"It is impossible to take something from nothing," quoted the wise guy. "Well, you come pretty close to it when you take the conceit out of some people," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

E. H. HARRIMAN'S CHURCH, HIS BIRTHPLACE AND THREE PROMINENT MEN AT FUNERAL

Only members of the family and a few close personal friends were bidden to the funeral of Edward H. Harriman at Arden, N. Y., on Sunday afternoon, September 12. Simplicity was the keystone of the funeral. The service was conducted by Bishop Doane of Albany and Archdeacon Nelson of New York city. They were assisted by the Rev. D. J. Holmes McGuinnis, rector of St. John's Church at Arden and spiritual adviser to the Harriman family. There was a family service at 10 o'clock in the morning at Arden House, a memorial service in St. John's Church at 11 o'clock and the funeral service at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Harriman was buried in the little churchyard beside the chapel. The active pallbearers were all men employed on the estate. The intimate friends present included Judge Lovett, Jacob Schiff and a number of Harriman's other closest business associates. This group of pictures shows the famous financier's birthplace and the little church at Arden beside which his body rests. He was born in the rectory of St. George's Church at Hempstead, N. Y., his father at the time of his birth being the rector of the church.

UNITED EVANGELICAL CONFERENCE CLOSES

Was in Session at Somerset and Was Attended By About 100 Delegates.

SOMERSET, Pa., Sept. 13.—(Special)—The sixteenth annual convention of the Pittsburg Conference of the United Evangelical Church which has been in session in Grace Evangelical Church, Somerset, from Wednesday, September 8 to Sunday, September 12, was a pronounced success and was attended by delegates from all parts of the State, and at least 100 delegates were in attendance. Rev. N. Frank Boyer is pastor of Grace Church and the Rev. F. W. Bartlett is presiding elder for the Somerset district, and these two gentlemen have been in charge of the conference. Bishop H. B. Hratzler of Harrisburg was in attendance and many well known ministers from various sections of the State delivered addresses. The sessions were all well attended by the people of Somerset and the conference was in every way a success.

At a business meeting the Rev. Dr. J. W. Domer of Scalp Level was elected President and F. W. Ware of Franklin was elected Secretary.

The next annual session of the conference will open September 14, 1910, but the place was not determined. Memorial services were held for the following who died during the last year: W. H. Baer, Greenville; P. D. Steelesmith, Scottdale; Mrs. M. A. Boozer, South Fork; Constance Rhoda Timmis, Lickenville. The Rev. B. H. Neibel of Harrisburg, Corresponding Secretary General of the missionary and church extension societies, delivered an address on the work of these organizations. The Rev. I. L. Peterson, Westover, was received into the itinerncy by ballot.

MINORITY WINS

In Fight Among Windber Brewing Company Stockholders.

SOMERSET, Pa., Sept. 13.—The attempt of controlling interests of the Windber Brewing Company to force the minority stockholders to sell for $150 their $100 par securities failed Saturday afternoon on hearing in the Court of Equity proceedings, in which the majority stockholders last Saturday were restrained by an injunction from converting the minority capital stock into bonds of an absorbing corporation over the protest of its lawful owners. Both sides agreeing, the preliminary injunction was dissolved, but the defendants were required to give $50,000 bond to secure payment in cash of such amount as the court may determine the minority stockholders are entitled to receive.

There Is a Great Rush at Union Supply Company Stores.

The attractive new Autumn Styles for Women and Misses are creating a big rush of business. The extensive varieties in the Dry Goods Departments and the very reasonable prices are pleasng lots of Women and Children and already making it necessary for us to duplicate some lines. The better time to buy seasonable goods is early in the season when the stocks are complete and the varieties unbroken. According to the rush we are having now it is very evident that our customers mostly think that way.

There are some very sensible styles in Women's Shoes just opened up for Fall and Winter wear, made expressly to our order. Be sure and see them before you buy.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL ORDER MISUNDERSTOOD

Authorities of the Catholic Church in Pittsburg Say It Is Broader Than Interpreted.

That which has been called a new order in relation to parochial schools is really an order which has been in force for at least four years, but according to the authorities of the Catholic Church in Pittsburg it has been much misunderstood. The order in broad terms was that Catholic parents who would send their children to any other than private Catholic schools or parochial schools, would be subject to what is called the "holy sin," and the parents would not be permitted the sacrament. One of the assumptions from this order was that there would not be room space for the pupils in the parochial schools.

This was all explained at the residence of Bishop Canevin by a statement that, in any event where it was impossible or difficult for children to attend a parish school, all that was necessary would be for the parents to tell the fact to the Bishop and he would advise that the pupils should attend some school, public or otherwise. It was no part of the purpose of the Catholic Church to make it inconvenient for any of the children of the church to get school instruction.

Even in the parish of the Cathedral there are children who cannot conveniently attend the school, the rooms of which are immediately in the rear of the residence of the Bishop. Some are delicate in health and when any sufficient reason is presented to Bishop Canevin why a child or youth of either sex should not be asked to attend the parochial school, permission is given for the pupil to go to any other school, whether it be Catholic or Protestant, so that it is an acceptable school. In other words, it is the purpose of the church to keep the children, so far as possible, in the schools of the church, but in many of the parishes that is impossible and the church recognizes the impossible.

The one thing that is required is that the Bishop shall be consulted when it is inadvisable or impossible or inconvenient for the child to attend a parochial school. In some cases there is no such school on account of the few Catholic residents in a parish, and it is insisted that the pupil shall receive religious instruction two or three times a week while in attendance at a private or public school.

So much misinformation has been spread abroad about this order that the authorities of the church give explicit information. In many of the suburban districts, and even in the parish of the Cathedral, as has been said, it is impossible for children to attend the parochial school for the want of one in some instances, and in other instances for special reasons.

It has occurred that in the case of persons who have been married and who are of different religious faith that excuse has been made for the non-attendance of the children at a parochial school. This contingency has been obviated to an almost prohibitive extent by the papal order of several months ago that no marriages shall be solemnized in any parish lacking the endorsement of priests of the parish from which the prospective wedded ones come.

SUTTON'S BODY IS EXHUMED;

An Autopsy Shows That No Bones Were Broken.

CONTUSION OVER RIGHT EYE

Bullet Wound Which Caused Death of Naval Lieutenant Was Clear Cut and, Mrs. Sutton's Lawyer Says, Could Not Have Been Self-Inflicted.

Washington, Sept. 14.—When the body of Lieutenant James N. Sutton, Jr., the young marine officer who met his death almost two years ago at Annapolis, was exhumed at Arlington cemetery an autopsy was performed by physicians representing the navy department and young Sutton's mother, which disclosed the fact that no bones were broken, although a contusion was found over the right eye.

It had been Mrs. Sutton's contention that her son's skull had been broken in the fight which preceded his death and that this being the case the shot which ended his life could not have been self-inflicted.

While the Sutton attorneys are said to have made their plans for the next step in the case, they declined to discuss them.

Dr. Vaughan of this city, who represented Mrs. Sutton at the autopsy, issued the following statement for the press:

Dr. Vaughan's Statement.

"I found the body in a fair state of preservation, except a softening of the chest, trunk and arms. I found no broken bones. There was a contusion or bruise over the right eye, about two and a half inches by one and a half inches. The bullet wound in the scalp was three inches above the right ear. There was no sign of burning of the hair. There were two or three cuts in connection with the bullet wound. One in the scalp near the bullet hole and the other about the middle of the scalp. This last cut may have been made at the postmortem, or by a blunt instrument before death."

Attorney Van Dyke, assistant counsel for Mrs. Sutton, said that he was convinced that the shot had been fired at least five feet from the officer's head and that the wound showed conclusively that it was a physical impossibility for Sutton to have fired the shot.

Mrs. Sutton at the Grave.

Present at the grave when the body was disinterred were Mrs. Sutton, several friends, her attorneys, several surgeons and a number of newspaper men. Mrs Sutton was the first person to look upon the face of her dead son when the casket was opened. After leaving the storeroom where the body lay she said to the newspaper men who were waiting outside:

"I want you newspaper men to go in there and see for yourselves that his forehead is crushed."

After the autopsy had been completed the body was placed in a new coffin, provided by the government, and was reinterred in the same grave after the ground had been consecrated by Rev. Father Alvaro Olds of St. Augustine's Catholic church of this city.

Mrs. Sutton and her attorneys indicated last night that the autopsy just performed will not close the case. Mrs Sutton is credited with saying, "We will give them the fight of their lives." It is declared that her attorneys will make every effort to bring the men she believes responsible for her son's death to justice. Mrs. Sutton is said to be anxious to have the case presented to a Maryland grand jury.

QUICK DEATH FOR NEGROES

One Is Brained, the Other Lynched After Murder of Woman.

Demopolis, Ala., Sept. 14.—News of the slaying of a white woman, was received from Bellamy, a lumber camp near here.

The negroes entered the home of a man named Gray, awakened Mrs. Gray and when she failed to heed the order to stop screaming, was shot and killed. Gray, who occupied an adjoining room, rushed in and brained one of the negroes with an ax after he had been shot in the leg. The other negro escaped but was captured and made quick work of by a posse.

Grandma Blue Dies at 125.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 14.—Mrs. Rosana Blue, known as "Grandma" Blue, died at the Alpha Home for Aged Colored Women. Mrs. Blue was born on Bear creek, Monroe county, N. C., about a century and a quarter ago. Mrs Blue came from a family noted for its longevity. Her mother lived to be 128 years of age.

One Shot Did the Work.

Jackson, O., Sept. 14.—Philip Fisher shot his wife, killing her instantly, and shot Charles DePriest through the eye and nose with one bullet. Fisher and his wife had not been living together and he went to her mother's and found her sitting on the porch with DePriest. Fisher fled.

Peace is not mere tranquility, for tranquility may be indifference.—Dur. Reid.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS.

Night at Owls Club, Harrisburg, Steward Losing Life.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 14.—Thomas Dwyer, steward at the Owls club, was shot down in cold blood by Wells W. Detweiler, a member of the club, and died twenty minutes later.

Detweiler had been playing cards and drinking all night at the club and he and Dwyer quarreled several times over small money matters. Detweiler went across the street and bought a .38-calibre and five cartridges, loading it in the presence of the clerk. Returning to the club Detweiler met Dwyer's wife, who had come to clean the rooms. Seeing the revolver, she shouted to warn her husband, who was in the lavatory, but before he could make a move to defend himself Detweiler fired twice, both bullets going through Dwyer's abdomen.

As Detweiler turned away, Dwyer fell into the arms of his wife.

"Kiss me; I'm dying," were his last words.

Policemen, hearing the shots, rushed in and arrested Detweiler, who offered no resistance, admitting somewhat incoherently that he had done the shooting, but offering no explanation.

FOUST BREAKS RECORD AT DEALERS EXPENSE

Violators of the Oleomargarine Law Contribute Heavily to the State Treasury.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust has broken all records for the successful prosecution of violators of the oleomargarine law in their stronghold in Western Pennsylvania.

Statistics of the operation of the act of May 29, 1909, to June 15 last, show that in the past two and one-half years in which Commissioner Foust has been in charge 330 prosecutions have been pushed to termination in Allegheny, Beaver, Fayette, Lawrence, Mercer, Washington and Westmoreland counties, enriching the State treasury by fines agreating $31,139 28.

In the four years of Dr. B. H. Warren's administration 302 cases were terminated and $23,687.50 collected in fines, while during the first two years of the act, under Commissioners Wellos and Cope, there were 133 cases and $5,273 50 in fines. Thus the fines collected under Foust in two and one-half years exceeded the combined totals of his predecessors during six years by $1,468.10.

MISS ELKINS' WORD.

The Only Hitch in Her Marriage to Abruzzi.

Paris, Sept. 14.—A high personage, in touch with previous preliminary arrangements regarding the marriage of the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins, said that, contrary to the popular impression, the real hitch was not due to objections on the part of the Italian royal family, but to the attitude of Miss Elkins herself.

"If Miss Elkins would accept the duke," said this authority, "there would be no obstacle placed in the way of the marriage by his family. I know that the king and royal family have offered to grant their consent, not to a morganatic union, but to a marriage which would include the privileges and rank for Miss Elkins to which the duke is entitled.

"The queen mother, perhaps, was not pleased with the prospect of the duke contracting a union with an American, but her objections would have been withdrawn. The duke's fate rests with Miss Elkins herself. If she should say the work the duke would be at her side tomorrow and the marriage would not long be delayed."

DEATH IN WALL COLLAPSE

Crumbling Building at Pittsburg Pins Many.

Pittsburg, Sept. 14.—One man is dead, another is missing, two more are thought to be buried under tons of debris and eight are suffering from injuries, due to the collapse of the Blanck storage house ruins in Penn avenue, near Station street, where the disastrous fire occurred on Sept. 1.

The high walls, which had been regarded safe, and had stood high pressure water tests through three-inch hose, crumbled, crushing the Cella hotel, a three-story adjoining structure, and killing or maiming persons in the barroom at the time. The collapsing hotel, in turn, leveled a blacksmith shop from where three persons had narrow escapes from being pinioned under the mass of timber, brick and wreckage.

FINALLY ENDS HIS LIFE

Eighteenth Attempt Finishes Cincinnati Man.

Cincinnati, Sept. 14.—The eighteenth attempt to take his own life, made a week ago by Philip Rueckner, forty years old, has succeeded. He died at the City hospital.

Rueckner has been much in the limelight here during the past few years because of his attempts to kill himself. He has used almost every means known to the average man, from poisoning to jumping out of a second-story window.

The last time he made three attempts in one day. That was a week ago, when he jumped out of a window, drank poison and shot himself, all within three hours. The shot crushed a part of his skull and caused his death on the last attempt.

LUCK NEVER DID LEAVE UNIONTOWN.

Pawva Pennant Will Fly There Next Year Thanks to Mike O'Malley.

MUFFED AN EASY FLY BALL

There Were Two Out at the Time But Three Runs Scored Afterwards. Then King Goes In and It Is All Off—Horseshoes? Just a Few of Them.

Although great care is taken that no news gets out to the world beyond as to the real cause of Fairmont's defeat and loss of the pennant at Uniontown yesterday, it can be charged to Mike O'Malley. A muffed fly in the fourth inning, after two men were out, gave Uniontown a new lease of life and three runs followed. Then Manager Hunt, who was doing good work in the box, yanked himself out and substituted King, who was not as effective as he might have been.

No mention of O'Malley's miscue was made in the morning Uniontown sheet. McCloskey's punk fly went for a single to the scorers up there, but disinterested fans say if a church leaguer had pulled off a play like O'Malley did, he would have been chased off the grounds.

Fairmont led, 2 to 0, up to the fatal fourth. Rudolph led off with a hit, Phillips forced him at second, but went up on an out by Carlss at first. With Phillips on second, McCloskey hit a high fly back of short. O'Malley, Haught and Elliot went after the ball. O'Malley got it square in his hands and muffed it. Phillips was across the pan. Cowan hit for three bases and scored McCloskey, coming home himself when Gribben singled.

Right at this point is where Manager Hunt sang "This is no place for me," and sent King to the rubber. Uniontown made three runs off him in the succeeding innings and the championship was won.

There was never the shadow of a doubt but that Uniontown won after a toss of he coin decided the game should be played in Fayette county, and at Uniontown. This was against all precedent, but Fairmont can blame none but herself. The deciding game should have been played on neutral ground, but it was willed otherwise and the Champs, with their horseshoes, will fly the rag once more. Now the question arises: What did it profit Fairmont to have the season split? The score:

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no early good. Hair when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destoy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed by Graham & Company, special agents.

Topnotchers	1	1	.500
Athletics	1	1	.333
Tigers	1	2	.333

The Cubs jumped into the lead in the Connellsville Duckpin League last night, by taking two games out of three from the Topnotchers, who cut somersaults last week by walloping the Tigers by the same ratio. The Cubs rolled a steady game, the first five men having excellent averages. Neither Schoonover nor Gulbord rolled any too well, but they kept well ahead of the "dead man" mark that has been a stumbling block for some of the ambitious pin spillers.

Captain Norris of the Topnotchers failed to roll in his usual form, 91 being his best game, but none of his side partners could exceed this record. The highest game rolled by any of the members was 98, which was reached by Goldsmith and Moore of the Cubs.

Friday night the Tigers and Athletics will roll and there may be some shifts in the standing when that happens. The score:

INSPECTOR AT WORK.

On the Robbery of the Dunbar Postoffice—No Arrests Made.

Postoffice Inspector Williams of Greensburg spent all day Saturday and part of Sunday at work investigating the robbery of the Dunbar postoffice. County Detectives McBeth and McLaughlin also spent Saturday on the case. What clews, if any, have been found by the officers, have not been given out.

The value of the stamps and cash taken is still placed at about $1,000.

WEAR GORNER'S CLOTHING

Wright-Metzler Co.

A Look Into Our Millinery Section

Will Give You the Most Comprehensive View of Women's Hat Fashions You Could Possibly Get.

Fashion seems to have drawn her inspirations from the bonnets worn by the armies of the world.

There are changes decided and unusual. Suggested in every model is the breath of one of the military ages of the past.

You've seen some of the famous paintings of the old time artists well, some of these hats are duplicates of the hats that graced their times.

There are hats too that are more feminine, trimmed with trimmings that find the origin of their designs in the years that are centuries gone.

Exquisite harmony and contrast is the millinery key note of the year and there are fashionable hats for every head.

Feathers seem to be the leading factor in hat adornment and in the hats where other trimming is used it is gorgeous and more varied than in years passed.

From paradise plumes to the little feathers of the quail are good.

Shapes are more becoming than those of last season and there is so much variety among the shapes that are correct that not matter what a woman chooses to wear, be the shape small or large, no matter if she does her hair in the plainest fashion or selects an elaborate form of hair dressing, there is a stylish hat to please her.

The present price range is from $5.00 to $50.00. Though the majority of models shown thus far range from the prices of $7.50 and $12.00.

You are cordially invited to come and inspect this authentic showing. Every correct mode is given expression in this collection.
